SCENE FROM "NIGHTHAWKS."

"NIGHTHAWKS" is an exceedingly dramatic and interesting melodrama dealing with a gang of political grafters who rely upon darkness to cover their multitude of sins. Francis Bushman is featured in the leading part.

Bill Baxter, a crook, and Jake Bentley encounter Jerry Heffer, who is trying to start what he believes to be an automobile in "A Bargain Auto." The machine refuses to move, and the robbers offer him $5 for it, with the idea of "stealing the town." They start to loot the bank, but Nancy Nugent interferes and is promptly knocked down. The bank clerks fall over her as they chase the robbers. The police arrive and try to use the machine for the chase, but it won't go. The crooks get out of town, and Nancy finds them asleep. She binds them with strips of her skirt and, halting a passing auto, runs them to the jail.

Frederick Uplum Adams is one of the authors who has taken the future of the moving picture. He has been elected president of the Chartered Theaters Corporation of New York City, which, in conjunction with the New York Morning Telegraph, announces cash prizes of $1,750 for the best three scenarios along comedy or farce-comedy lines. The prizes in amounts are $1,000, $500 and $250, and all other available manuscripts will be purchased.

"The Mystery of the Lost Stradivarius," ninth mystery in the "Chronicles of Cleek," by Thomas W. Hanshew. Did Miss North, the militant, steal Baronoff's violin? Circumstances pointed that way. If not who did? Why was Baronoff so strangely quiet when Hamilton Cleek investigated? This seemingly unswivable situation is untangled by Cleek in the most dramatic fashion.

MRS. CARMAN OUT ON $20,000 BAIL

Is Temporarily a Free Woman—Counsel Enters Plea of "Not Guilty"

(By Associated Press.) Freeport, N. Y., July 17.—Mrs. Florence Carman, indicted today on the charge of first degree manslaughter in connection with the killing on the night of June 30, in her doctor-husband's office of Mrs. Louise Bailey, came back to her home and her family here tonight, temporarily a free woman. She was released for trial under $20,000 bail fifteen minutes after the grand jury made known its finding.

When Mrs. Carman was led into the court room today for arraignment she plainly showed the strain she had been under since her arrest. When the clerk of court asked her how she would plead her lips opened to answer but Mr. Levy, her counsel, interrupted her. Upon the understanding that his client would have the right to withdraw her plea within two weeks and file a demurrer and a motion to quash the indictment on the ground of insufficient evidence, Levy entered a plea of "not guilty."

PRACTICAL SLAVERY

Results From the Steamboat Inspection Laws, Says Witness. (By Associated Press.) Washington, July 17.—"Practical slavery" results from the present federal steamboat inspection laws, Capt. William A. Westcott, of San Francisco declared before the senate commerce committee today. Captain Westcott appeared in favor of the Hardy bill, already passed by the house, which would repeal the provision under which officers who decline offers of service on any boat endanger their licenses.

IMBROGLIO IS NOT ENDED

LONDON PAPERS DECLARE THAT MEXICO HOLDS MORE TROUBLE

IEWS IN PARIS

Huerta's Acuteness Causes the Latins To Smile—"Elegant Conduct"

(By Associated Press.) London, July 17.—Commenting upon the resignation of Huerta, the morning papers give credit to President Wilson for the success of his policy, but consider that the Mexican imbroglio is in no way solved. The Chronicle asserts that it is premature to describe as a triumph for Mr. Wilson. He gained his point, the papers say, but his policy has entailed an appalling amount of murder and pillage, most of which could have been avoided if he had joined Europe in recognizing Huerta.

The London Daily Mail regards Huerta's resignation as granting a respite, but not a reprieve in the situation. It says, however, the world will breathe more freely at the thought that war between the United States and Mexico was averted.

The Times considers that President Wilson never intended to elevate the rule of non recognition applied to Huerta into a policy of universal application.

"But," adds The Times, "the sequel has proved him right, and his remarkable innovation in diplomatic procedure has thus far justified itself, both in aim and method. The ultimate Mexican question, however, is not yet disposed of. Rather it is beginning to reveal its true proportions."

The French Press

Paris, July 17.—The retirement of Huerta is commented upon sympathetically in the French Press today. The papers declare Huerta's departure from the Mexican capital is in keeping with the remarkable intelligence he has shown throughout. He leaves soon enough, so that he does not seem to fly before the constitutionalists, they assert, and at just the right moment to obtain credit for "the elegant conduct" in handing over his power to a successor whose impartiality pleases all parties the hope that peace may be established.

THE GAS "TRUST" IS INVESTIGATED

Over $55,000,000 Capital Stock—Pennsylvania Concern Interested in South Carolina

(By Associated Press.) Washington, July 17.—Investigation by the department of justice of the United Gas Improvement company, probably the largest factor in the country in the sale of gas lighting fixtures, is nearly complete, it was announced today, but whether the government shall bring an anti-trust suit has not been determined. No decision in the case is expected for several weeks.

The investigation into the company is said to have developed that it does business in nearly 300 cities and towns in the United States. The company was chartered in 1882 by the state of Pennsylvania with the broadest powers. At the close of 1912 its outstanding stock amounted to $55,000,000. It is interested in various companies in many states, including South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Tennessee.

How the Retreating Federals Handle Mexican Rolling Stock

Photos copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.

THE rebels in Mexico are drawing closer every day to the capital, where Huerta is rallying his veteran forces for a final stand. The capture of Zacatecas was followed by further advances south on the part of the Constitutional army, although progress was slow because of the damage done to the railroad tracks and rolling stock by the retreating federals. In the accompanying illustration are shown typical instances of the work of Huerta's defeated army—a derelict engine and an overturned oil car.

HEAVY FINES AND SENTENCES

For Fraudulent Use of the United States Mail Is Imposed On Offenders

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, July 17.—Convicted with seven others of having used the mails to defraud in the operation of the Fair & Widen Mercantile Agency, Abraham H. Freeman, of Chicago, and Frederick L. Wendler, St. Louis, today were sentenced to eight years imprisonment each and fined $20,000 each in federal court.

Life Saving Drill Aboard A Big Ocean Greyhound

THE safety of ocean travel is a subject of active discussion just at present owing to the accidents to steamers that have occurred. Companies are taking greater precautions than ever before in regard to supplying craft with lifeboats, rafts and life preservers. In the illustration is shown a view of the life saving drill on the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. The men are members of the crew. They have been equipped with life preservers and are ready to man the boats and rafts. At the left is seen an officer reading instructions to them.

RECORD'S COMMENTS ON GUS RICHEY CASE

QUESTION OF VERACITY BETWEEN PHYSICIAN AND GOVERNOR

INTERESTING CASE

The Columbia Newspaper Reprints Pardon Reasons, Especially Interesting Now

Columbia, July 17.—The Columbia Evening Record, whose editor, Jas. H. Moore, was arrested some time ago for libel and is ready for his case to come to trial at any time, has been pouring some hot-shot into the governor of the state. It was one of the governor's secretaries who swore out the warrant.

The Record Thursday afternoon displayed a statement from Dr. Jas. H. McIntosh directly contradicting a statement from Blease in his speech at Abbeville where the speaker "read a number of reports from reputable physicians, among whom are Dr. James McIntosh and others, that Richey is a paralytic and his condition would improve if released from confinement."

Dr. McIntosh in his written statements says: "It is not true that this report of the said committee signed by Dr. Knowlton and myself in any way recommended a pardon or parole of the said R. A. Richey, the fact being that both Dr. Knowlton and I fully agreed that this paralysis was feigned."

The editor of The Columbia Record in commenting upon this statement says:

"This is a most remarkable conflict of statement coming from a reputable physician and presents this situation: that ever since he paroled Richey in 1912 Governor Blease has been on record as giving among the reasons deciding him to grant the parole that Drs. A. B. Knowlton and James H. McIntosh, among others, made reports on which he based his action. In his 'parade message' of 1913, reporting the Richey case to the legislature the governor said: 'Petition was received April, 1914, asking for a pardon signed by a large number of the citizens of Abbeville county. Accompanying the same were affidavits and certificates as to his health, but notwithstanding the numerous signed petition and the prominence of some of the names of men appearing thereon, I did not feel that this was a case where a pardon should be granted, neither a parole; but, however, in view of the statement from Superintendent Griffith and Dr. P. T. Jennings of the penitentiary, and also the separate opinion of Drs. A. B. Knowlton and James McIntosh, who made a special and separate examination of the defendant, and also of still another report signed by Dr. Wm. D. Simpson, as to the physical condition of the defendant, and in view of the further fact that it is stated in said papers, certificates, affidavits, etc., that the said R. A. Richey, since his confinement in the State penitentiary, has been and is today a helpless invalid, not being able to leave his bed, and even when attending the calls of nature has to be handled as a child, and the certificates of the physicians showing and all of them concurring in the fact that he can never improve, but will continue to languish and finally die if kept in prison, but that if given the benefit of air and sunshine that the probabilities are that he may get well, or at least improve very much in health."

"And now Dr. McIntosh says that Dr. Knowlton and myself did not recommend Richey's parole or pardon but 'fully agreed' that Richey's 'paralysis' was feigned?"

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION

Washington, July 17.—President Wilson has so far recovered from his attack of indigestion that he was able to take an automobile ride. His physician had directed that he remain quietly in his room all day, but the president insisted on going to the executive office to sign some necessary papers. After the ride later, he appeared to be in his usual health.

GREENWOOD

Greenwood, July 17.—Thus far about 900 voters have placed their names on the two city club rolls. There were 357 names on the roll at the National Loan and Exchange Bank Thursday afternoon and approximately 500 on the book at the Bank of Greenwood. Those who haven't yet enrolled are again reminded that the books will close one week from next Tuesday, July 28th.

Over 300 tickets were sold Friday morning for the excursion over the Southern from Greenwood to Washington. The trip was arranged by Randolph McGee and others, for the various colored Sunday schools.

Examination for scholarships from Greenwood county in the citadel will be held at the Court House on Aug. 10th. It is understood that a number of young men are applicants.
